

Defense Housing Bill Tabbed For House Approval

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—A $1-700,000,000 defense housing bill was tabbed for final approval in the House today. Even Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), who opposed several provisions of the measure, conceded its probable passage.

The administration lost only one significant skirmish after the opening of debate yesterday.

Amendments Defeated

By a shaky three-vote margin, subject to possible overturn on a later roll-call, Wolcott pushed through an amendment calling for suspension, rather than relaxation, of regulation "X" building credit restrictions in critical housing areas. The tentative vote was 108 to 105.

By the sturdier margin of 127 to 102, the House rejected another Wolcott move to bar the government from constructing permanent-type housing where private enterprise does not produce the number of dwelling units needed.

A third Wolcott amendment, defeated 125 to 122, would have barred government from operating (but not from constructing) such community facilities as hospitals, waterworks, sewage systems and similar works in areas unable to finance them locally.

Religious Issue Dodged

Some members of the House said they feared the language of the section would let the government interfere with local operation of schools, even opening up the possibility of delegating their operation to religious groups.

Saying he wished to keep the bill clear of religious controversies, Rep. Spence (D-Ky.), manager for the measure, announced he would move to strike out all authority for government construction or operation of schools.

Spence, who is chairman of the banking committee which developed the legislation, said it gives private enterprise every opportunity to build the houses needed around expanding defense plants and military installations.

The government authorized to step in only when private builders cannot or will not do the work.

Wayne County Wants To Be Cut In On Tuberculosis Fund

LANSING—(AP)—Fireworks were expected today (2 p. m.) as a legislative committee gathered to hear protests from Wayne county over being left out of the distribution of $3,000,000 for new tuberculosis facilities.

The committee, charged with recommending the distribution of the money to the "Little Legislature," split the money last month entirely among out-state sanatoriums.

Governor Williams joined the outcry from Wayne county which resulted in the committee's calling an unscheduled meeting for today.

House Republicans Try To Cut Foreign Aid Fund By Billion

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Economy-minded House Republicans organized a drive today to slash up to a billion dollars from the administration's $8,500,000,000 foreign aid bill.

But the House foreign affairs committee, apparently anticipating the GOP drive, said in a formal report yesterday that Europe's biggest defense problem now is money, not manpower. And it quoted Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to that effect.

Felon Slays Guard And Escapes From Cooks County Jail

CHICAGO—(AP)—Police with "shoot to kill" orders searched through Chicago today for a rapist-slayer who killed a guard and jumped a jail wall in a desperate try to beat the electric chair.

The fugitive, Harry Williams, is armed with the riot gun of the guard he killed in breaking from the Cook county jail last night.

Williams, 20, six foot, two inch Negro, had been sentenced to death in the electric chair on Sept. 14 for Murder.

Reward Of $1,000

Jail warden Philip Scanlan and sheriff John E. Babb issued the "shoot to kill" order. Babb personally offered a $1,000 reward for Williams' capture—dead or alive.

A short time after he escaped, Williams attempted to hold up a motorist about a mile from the jail, which is at 26th St. and Sacramento Ave., on the southwest side. A policeman opened fire on Williams and he fled.

"This man is so desperate he never will be taken alive," warden Scanlan said.

The warden said Raymond Jenko, 20, white, who also was sentenced to die for murder, was seized in Williams' cell in the death row. He said Williams and Jenko were together in the escape plot,

Two-Man Committee Proposed To Break Korea Truce Deadlock

By SAM SUMMERLIN
MUNSAN, KOREA—(AP)—United Nations delegates suggested today that a subcommittee be set up to break through the formality of Korean truce negotiations and attempt to settle the buffer zone deadlock.

Red delegates showed interest, a U. N. spokesman said.

Simultaneously, U. N. command headquarters in Tokyo announced that the Allies, if necessary, will continue "destroying or driving out of Korea" the Red Chinese and Korean armies.

At Kaesong the chief U. N. delegate, Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, proposed a two man committee—one from each side—seek an end to the deadlock in an air of informality.

He proposed the subcommittee "meet around rather than across the table." They would thus escape "the formality of utterances" which he said contributed to the three-week-old dispute over where to place a military dividing line across Korea.

Joy asked the Communists to reply Thursday. The negotiators meet next at 1 p. m. (10 p. m. Wednesday EST).

The five Red generals "showed more interest in Admiral Joy's proposal than they have shown in any other statement," Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls reported.

Both delegations appeared more cheerful than usual when they left the meeting place, a pool dispatch from Kaesong said. And Communist newsmen on the scene hinted the Reds might be willing to discuss a demarcation line based on the present battle front, as the Allies demand.

Delegations have been stymied since July 27 over the location of the demarcation line. North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, heading the Red negotiators, Wednesday reiterated the Red demand it be along the 38th parallel. This is generally south of the battle line.

Riot Squelched In Utah Prison

By WILLIAM E. LARKWORTHY and DWIGHT L. JONES
POINT-OF-THE-MOUNTAIN, Utah—(AP)—The third riot in as many months at Utah's new multi-million dollar prison was put down without bloodshed yesterday.

And as it ended with the release of two prison officers who had been held hostage under threat of death most of the day, embattled state officials announced a new and tougher era at the institution where 472 inmates are housed.

The state board of corrections ordered that all men be confined to their cells.

"Only those who have definite work assignments will be allowed to leave their quarters at any time—except on signed permission of the warden," said the board statement.

"We are going to run this prison the way the people want it run," added acting board chairman Kingsley Clawson.

The board also announced that Weston E. Haslam—one of the two men held hostage for more than seven hours—will continue as acting warden with full authority.

PEORIA, Ill.—(AP)—An 18-day old girl is being treated for polio in St. Francis hospital.

Martha Louise Reed, who weighed seven pounds, two ounces at birth, was brought to the hospital Saturday from Canton, Ill. Both legs are paralyzed.

The American Medical association said in Chicago it was unusual for an infant that young to have polio. It added that no statistics were available to show whether it was a record.

Hearst Estate Goes To Wife And Five Sons

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—William Randolph Hearst's will divides his multi-million dollar fortune among his widow, five sons and various charitable organizations.

The amount of the estate was not disclosed but may be divulged at a probate hearing set for August 27.

Largest single bequest in the 57-page document, augmented by nine codicils, was the $1,500,000 in cash and $6,000,000 trust fund left to the widow, Mrs. Millicent V. Hearst of New York City.

Income Of $150,000

The will was filed in Superior court late yesterday, only a few hours after the 88-year-old publisher died at his Beverly Hills home.

The widows trust fund is in the form of preferred stock in the Hearst corporation, a holding company possessing a large part of the publisher's fortune.

The will provides an annual income of $150,000 to each of their five sons and directs that upon the death of the last surviving grandson, both the family trust and charitable trust shall be distributed. The heirs of the grandchildren will receive the former.

The latter is to be divided among the organizations which have received its income.

The only organizations specified in the will are the University of California, the Los Angeles county museum of history, science and art, and the California charities foundation.

One codicil left the publisher's Beverly Hills home to former screen actress Marion Davies under her legal name of Marion Douras. A later codicil, however, revoked this bequest without explanation.

The first codicil declares Miss Davies "came to my aid during the great depression with a million dollars of her own money, thereby doing much to save myself and my institutions from financial disaster at that time."

Seaplane Goes Up 19,325 Feet

DETROIT—(AP)—"Fighting for every foot" over the 18,000-foot mark, amateur pilot Harold Mistle, 37, climbed to an unofficial world altitude record for light seaplanes yesterday.

Mistle, son of a Detroit coal company executive, forced his Aerona sedan "Pochantas" up to 19,325 feet. He was aloft two hours and 28 minutes.

He will apply for world record recognition for seaplanes of 1,250 to 2,400 pounds gross weight.

A Russian pilot set the world record of 13,000 feet for a plane of similar size. A German holds the record of 21,814 feet for seaplanes of any type.

Mistle reported, "When I reached 18,750 feet, the plane was virtually hanging on its prop at a 60-degree angle."

The height of 575 feet above sea level at the Detroit river take-off point was added to the 18,750-foot height for the total altitude.

Iran Discards British Offer

By ROBERT B. HEWETT
TEHRAN, Iran—(AP)—The Iranian government today rejected the latest British compromise offer to settle the oil dispute, but Britain refused to take "no" for an answer and the talks are continuing.

Deputy Premier Hossein Fatemi told reporters the British offer was unacceptable because it did not conform to Iran's drastic nationalization law under which Anglo-Iranian Oil Company properties were taken over.

Chief British negotiator Richard Stokes told a news conference he hoped an agreement might yet be reached.

On the other hand, the Iranian government statement issued by Fatemi showed clearly that Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and his cabinet are not budging from their nationalization plans to take over the properties of the British-controlled Anglo-Iranian company.

Russian Submarines New Threat In War

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of the Navy Kimball believes the Russians may throw submarines into the Korean war if the Kaesong truce talks fail.

"It's a very real threat and we're alive to it," he said last night in a radio interview (CBS' Capitol Clockroom). He expressed the view that the threat of Soviet submarine intervention is greater than the threat of increased Red air power.

Kimball said the U. S. Navy had sunk no foreign submarines in the Korean war. The Russians are known to have a large U-boat fleet, portions of it concentrated in Vladivostok north of Korea.

Hate-Monger Speech By Truman Draws McCarthy Challenge

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's blast at "hate mongers" brought a challenge from Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) today for a 1952 political showdown on his Communists-in-government charges.

Mr. Truman dedicated the new Washington headquarters of the American Legion last night with a punch-packed attack on those he said "are trying to create fear and suspicion among us by the use of slander, unproved accusations and just plain lies."

Senator Accepts

Senator Benton (D-Conn) promptly nominated McCarthy as the object of the attack. Benton has proposed that the Senate formally consider ousting the Wisconsin senator.

McCarthy, accepting the designation, flung a challenge back at the president. He said:

"If Truman wants to make the fight against Communism—which he calls 'McCarthyism'—an issue in the campaign, I will welcome it. It will give the people a chance to choose between Americanism or a combination of Trumanism and Communism."

Senator Humphrey (D-Minn) said the president told him in advance he would make a "rip-snorting" speech. In his speech, Mr. Truman assailed people he said claim to be against Communism but are "chipping away at our basic freedoms just as insidiously and far more effectively than the Communists have ever been able to do."

Audience Silent

Urging Legion members to "raise your voices against hysteria," the president concluded with:

"Now go to it."

For the most part, the audience was silent while Mr. Truman spoke, although there was applause when he praised the Legion and spoke of the loyalty of government workers.

Legion National Commander Erle Cocke, Jr., was non-committal on Mr. Truman's talk, saying only the organization "has always stood for unification of American principles, ideas and the American way of life."

Peace Treaty Gives Japs Right To Arm

By JOHN SCALI
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The U. S. and Britain make public today (4 p. m., EST) a third and final draft of a proposed "peace of reconciliation" with Japan which Russia has denounced.

Despite continuing Soviet objections, both governments anticipate at least 40 of 50 countries will sign it at a conference in San Francisco next month.

Once the treaty is ratified by a majority of the signers, it will formally end the war declared against the Japanese empire nearly 10 years ago.

Western powers hope this will restore Japan to the ranks of major powers banded together to resist Communist expansion throughout the world.

Informed officials said the latest draft is the only important change deals with Japan's obligation to pay reparations to nations it devastated during the Pacific war.

This feature was altered in deference to the Philippines, which had threatened to boycott the San Francisco meeting over demands for war damages.

As amended, the treaty notes Japan's obligation to pay such claims. But, instead of apparently ruling them out because of its poverty, it leaves the way open for future reparations in the event the Japanese make a financial comeback.

As now written, the pact strips Japan of all its pre-war overseas possessions. No bars are placed, however, on Japan's ability to re-arm. The treaty says Japan has "the inherent right" of self-defense and does not abridge this in any way.

Detroit Office Of WSB Opened

DETROIT—(AP)—The Wage Stabilization Board opened its regional Detroit office today and immediately met with a hint of trouble.

It came from Matthew Smith and his Mechanics Educational Society of America.

Smith said his skilled workers union would have nothing to do with the WSB unless the MESA is given representation on the group.

The regional board will pass on wage issues arising in Michigan. It is one of 14 regional boards in the U. S.

The regional board will be in charge of M. S. Ryder, Michigan WSB director.

Ryder said appointments to the 12-man board will come from Washington. There will be four each from the public, industry and labor.

Judge Ridicules Michigan GOP

PONTIAC—(AP)—Detroit Recorder Judge W. McKay Skillman took a swing at Michigan's Republican party yesterday before an audience that included top state GOP leaders.

He termed the party "subservient, docile, anemic and 'me-too'" in an address at a picnic of Oakland county's Republican women, young Republicans and Lincoln clubs.

The audience, including state chairman Owen J. Cleary, national committeewoman Rae Hooker and Auditor General John B. Martin, jr., heard the Detroit jurist declare the rank and file of voters want to do something about the "bewildering chain of events taking place around them."

"But here in Michigan, they find no fighting leaders to whom to turn."

He added:

"The papers are full of the fair deal appearances of Gov. Williams and Democratic Senator Moody, but who is heard in opposition?"

"Continuance of a subservient, docile, anemic and 'me-too' Republican party can result only in a one-party system of government and that would end our liberties as we know them."

Charge Steiner In Cattle Theft

Fairport Man Held In County Jail

William Steiner, 39, of Fairport, is to be given a lie detector test today in connection with the alleged theft of Hereford steers a week ago in Fairbanks township, Sheriff William E. Miron reported.

Arrested last night about 7:30 o'clock at his home, Steiner has denied any knowledge of the thefts and is held in jail.

On complaint of the sheriff, Steiner is charged with the larceny of six Hereford beef steers three years old valued at $2,000, the property of St. Bonaventure Minor Seminary, Sturtevant, Wis., which were in the care and custody of Robert Watchorn of Fayette.

Believe Others Involved:

At the time of the theft it was reported that 12 head were missing. The legs and heads of six of the animals were found in the pasture.

State police of the Manistique post and sheriff's officers in their investigation reported finding the tracks of a truck in the pasture whose tire prints correspond with the tires on a truck owned by Steiner.

"We believe other parties there are involved and the investigation is continuing," said Sheriff Miron. "The polygraph test will be given Steiner this afternoon either at the jail or at the Gladstone state police post."

Seminary Owned Cattle

The complaint against Steiner was made by the sheriff and issued by Justice of the Peace A. T. Sohberg of Gladstone and authorized by Prosecutor Clyde McGonagle.

The herd of 30 beef steers had been purchased by St. Bonaventure Seminary and were being pastured near Fairport on the Garden peninsula under the care of Watchorn. Value of the 12 missing animals was estimated at $4,500.

Redwoods May Not Be The Oldest Living Things

LA JOLLA, Calif.—(AP)—Bacteria found in sediments deposited on the floor of the Pacific several millions of years ago are still capable of reproducing themselves, according to Richard V. Morita, of the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Whether they are, as has been claimed, "The oldest living things on earth," is as yet impossible to determine, says Morita.

One theory is that the bacteria in the lower layers of sediment have existed in a state of suspended animation for some millions of years. A contradictory theory is that they have been able to carry on normal functions, re-

Morgan Heights Gets $350,000

Powers Request For $200,000 Rejected

MARQUETTE, Mich. — Representative Alvin E. Richards (R-Marquette county) is attending a special meeting in Lansing to defend the $350,000 grant awarded last month to Morgan Heights sanatorium.

Before leaving yesterday, Richards, a member of the legislative committee in charge of allocating tuberculosis hospital construction funds, said the meeting was called after Wayne and Menominee county groups had protested division of a $3,000,000 "kitty" set aside for TB institutions.

The groups are seeking additional funds, Richards said, adding that these funds would have to come from money already appropriated to other institutions by the committee. "I want to hold what I've got for Marquette county," Richards declared.

The committee last month ignored requests from Wayne and Menominee counties in splitting the $3,000,000 melon. A request for $200,000 for the Pinecrest sanatorium at Powers in Menominee county was turned down.

Outstanding U. P. Dairy Farmers Honored At Fair

Awards in the second annual Upper Peninsula "green pastures" contest and recognition of Dairy Herd Improvement association members with outstanding records were highlights of the dairymen's banquet held last night at the U. P. State Fair grounds.

The green pastures contest has as its purpose the stimulation of interest in good forage crop management and this year attracted 102 contestants in seven counties.

The U. P. State Fair board and the U. P. Dairy Manufacturers association support the contest and a cup award for the "pasture master" and a wall plaque for the dairy farmer showing most progress in the past year.

Receives Cup Award

Bernie Koepf of Mangum, Marquette county, was announced as 1951 "pasture master" and was presented with a cup award by John MacInnis, secretary of the U. P. State Fair board of managers.

Russell Shipley, Keweenaw Bay, received the wall plaque for greatest improvement in forage practice. The award was presented by Forbes McDonald, Pickford, representing the U. P. Dairy Manufacturers association, and received for Shipley by Fred Biekola, Baraga county agent.

Speaker of the evening was Fortes Ely, head of the dairy department of Ohio State College. Ely is also one of the dairy cattle judges at the fair.

More Production

The speaker lauded the green pastures contest and the Dairy Herd Improvement association program. They were, he said, the backbone of dairying. Only through testing can dairy farmers know the production of their herds and the individual cows and thus have the basis for improvement, he added.

Prof. Ely advocated not just the production of milk with higher butterfat content, but more volume of milk production generally. Present market conditions utilize all the milk solids and the more milk produced the greater the farm income, Ely pointed out.

High Herd Averages

The outstanding high herd averages in DHIA for the past year

were announced as follows:

Luce-Alpine Farms, 420 lbs. butterfat.

Gogebic-Victor Talo, 484 lbs. butterfat. David Liimakka, 391.9 for greatest increase in past year.

Menominee-South DHIA: Lev-erett Stewart 472.8 lbs. butterfat; North DHIA: Wickman Brothers, 511.8 lbs. butterfat.

Dickinson-A. Wender & Sons, 417 lbs. butterfat.

Delta-Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bergman, Bark River, 370 lbs. butterfat.

Schoolcraft-Otto Winkel, 477.7 lbs. butterfat.

Baraga-John Holso, 456.5 lbs. butterfat.

Houghton-John Bell, 511 lbs. butterfat.

Food Inspection Program Shown At State Fair

Promotion of better public understanding of the grading laws and other regulations governing Michigan products is the objective of an educational exhibit sponsored by the Michigan Department of Agriculture at the U. P. State Fair this week.

"It is designed to encourage the consumer public to use graded products whenever possible," says Hutter Hering of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, who is in charge of the display.

In the weights and measures section of the exhibit, there is a list of the equipment used by field men to protect the consumers, whether they are buying pre-packaged meat or a truckload of gasoline.

The department has a staff of food inspectors who are working throughout the state to check quality and proper labeling of products. The staff is headed by Nick Badovinac, with John Bell of Iron Mountain and Jack Hartzell of Escanaba as assistants.

Clyde Cotton, superintendent of weights and measures, is assisted by Harold Wheelock and James James Tibbitts.

The egg candling process is demonstrated daily at the exhibit.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, Topeka, Kansas, educational consultant and public speaker for General Motors Corp. and guest lecturer for Readers' Digest, will address the annual convention of Wisconsin-Upper Michigan District, Kiwanis International, in Escanaba, August 27 at a noon luncheon meeting.

Lieutenant Governor Herbert Ainsworth, of Monroe, Wis. will preside at the luncheon.

The 33rd annual convention of the district will open officially August 26 and will close with a noon luncheon August 28. An attendance of more than 500 is anticipated by convention officials.

Dr. McFarland, considered an authority on vocational education, has served as a school executive for 24 years. The modern McFarland trade school, which he designed and built at Coffeyville, Kansas, is named in his honor.

A native Kansan, Dr. McFarland is a graduate of Columbia university and Leland Stanford university. He is recognized as one of the seven top American educators.

Dr. McFarland and his family live on a 100-acre "town ranch" where they raise registered horses and Hereford cattle.

Others to appear on the program include Dr. Reuben K. Youngdahl, of Minneapolis and Kiwanis Trustee Don Engdahl, Spokane, Washington.

Presiding officer of the convention is Earl C. Knutson, Westby, Wis. District Governor. Delegates from 84 clubs in the two states representing over 5,500 business and professional leaders will attend and participate in discussions, forums, election of 1952 officers and plans for the coming year.

BLIND BEAUTY — Elvita Clementi, blind soprano from Milwaukee, Wisc., has been named "Miss DAV Sweetheart of 1951." Miss Clementi will reign at the 30th national convention of the Disabled American Veterans in Milwaukee.

Crop Exhibits Show Quality

Increased Interest In Bean Growing

Although tomato and watermelon crops suffered from the cool temperatures experienced in this area, many others benefited, such as alfalfa, red clover, wheat and root crops such as carrots, beets and turnips, Norman Reath, superintendent of the agricultural department of the U. P. Fair said yesterday.

Strawberries and beans fared well this season.

Copper Country strawberries, says Reath, are of a high quality and have a very dependable eastern market. The area enjoys an advantage due to the difficulty of preserving freshness in shipping berries from the West coast.

Reath reports an increasing interest in bean growing in the area, due to the demand from the Coleman Canning Company of Gladstone and the Nieman company at Hermansville.

He believes that the exhibits this year show increased quality. Some of the horticultural exhibits, he states, would look better if the displaying could take place two weeks from now.

It is generally agreed that field crops are the basis of U. P. agriculture, Reath said. Hay and small grains are the backbone of the industry. One expressed objection of the fair is to stimulate the

Ton Of Cheese On Exhibition At State Fair

Nearly a ton of cheese and 150 pounds of butter are assembled in the dairy exhibition at the fairgrounds, says Supt. Mason Smith.

From 50 to 60 per cent of Upper Peninsula farm products take the form of cheese, butter and milk, he reports. Cheese is the largest outlet of dairy products. In the U. P., an accredited area for TB and Bangs diseases, many factories are producing cheese, some of which is sent to foreign markets.

Most of the large cheddars of cheese are ground up and become processed cheese. The smaller cheddars, Smith continues, are sent directly to the stores. The cheese is also produced in loaf form.

Chief objective of the exhibit is to promote the consumption of cheese.

New Steel Industry Being Established On East Coast

A brief Associated Press item from Philadelphia should arouse much concern in the Great Lakes industrial region and develop a more sympathetic attitude toward the St. Lawrence seaway project.

The item stated that the Pennsylvania Railway had begun work on the construction of an $8,000,000 dock on the Delaware river near Philadelphia. The dock will receive iron ore from foreign countries destined to the new Fairless works being built at nearby Morrisville by the United States Steel corporation.

Middle West railroads have been opposing the St. Lawrence waterway project because of the fear of losing freight business. The seaway, however, would bring foreign ores to the blast furnaces of Detroit, Pittsburgh, Youngstown and other iron and steel making centers.

Middle West railroads would haul the ore from the Great Lakes ports to the furnaces and would later transport the finished products all over the region. They certainly would get much more freight revenue from this kind of a set-up than if the steel industry were expanded on the Atlantic coast.

Senator Blair Moody of Michigan, who is mindful of the proposed seaway's long range benefits to his state, has been endeavoring to tack the St. Lawrence project onto the foreign aid appropriation bill.

Senator Moody presents the following arguments for the seaway project:

Expansion of the steel industry to an annual output of 130,000,000 tons under the mobilization program will increase iron ore needs to more than 150,000,000 tons annually.

This will require importation of upwards of 40,000,000 tons of ore annually, principally from Labrador and Venezuela.

Since a substantial portion of imported ore will be destined for the steel mills of the Great Lakes area, which represents more than 70 per cent of national capacity, the Seaway would be the logical route. It also would be the most economical—offering savings of $2 to $3 a ton over combination sea-rail transport.

Seaway construction would be economical of critical materials; the entire project would require only 160,000 tons of steel, as compared with 400,000 tons which the railroads propose to use in new construction in 1951 alone.

The Seaway would greatly enhance the security of the United States and Canada as well as the countries of Western Europe.

It would accord a safe inland route for the shipment of iron ore from Labrador in wartime, a route comparatively secure against Soviet submarines.

The Seaway would reduce exposure of trans-Atlantic shipping to enemy action by shaving 1,000 miles from the open-water route.

The Seaway would relieve congestion of rail facilities and coastal ports in time of emergency and provide an alternate route should enemy action disrupt or destroy existing facilities.

Should the Sault Ste. Marie locks be rendered temporarily inoperative by hostile action, the Seaway would provide a second avenue for the bulk movement of ore.

A substantial portion of the so-called "hard goods" which the United States is sending to its NATO allies is produced in the Midwest. Transportation, either in American or foreign bottoms, would be cheaper via the Seaway.

Hay Fever Season Will Bring More Tourists

THE hay fever season is getting under way in the prairie states and soon the Upper Peninsula will be seeing the annual influx of allergy victims.

Hay fever is a malady that defies the efforts of medical scientists, although some progress has been made in the fight against it. Antihistamine drugs have given a measure of relief in the past decade. Air conditioning in homes, offices and factories also has been helpful to sufferers.

But for many hay fever sufferers, and there are millions of them, the only way to get effective relief is to get miles away from ragweed and other plant pollen to which they are allergic.

A recently published map shows the Upper Peninsula comparatively free of ragweed. It explains why for years hundreds of hay fever sufferers have been coming to Escanaba, Manistique, Sault Ste. Marie and other U. P. cities during the several week period that extends from mid-August to late in September.

Hay fever is a tricky ailment, however. Some persons get relief in one city and suffer distress in others, and vice versa. Nevertheless, the hay fever business is a source of revenue to Upper Peninsula communities and extends the tourist season beyond the traditional Labor Day closing of the vacation season.

Inflationary Hall

By Gordon Martin

When you start to build another room upon your crowded house, now so jammed it cannot lodge another self-respecting mouse, then you think it is a simple chore that cannot cost you much, for the lumber and the plaster and the roof and floor and such. Thought you plan to help the workmen, so's to save a little dough, you discover soon you've bought a lot of monetary woe.

Now when first they poured the footings, you were quite surprised to learn that the cost of plain old concrete somehow took an upward turn. Then you ordered out the lumber for the plates and joists and studs, and you found again your estimates were just a bunch of duds. Came the windows and the woodwork and you wondered at their cost, and you had to have some heating too, to meet the coming frost.

By the time the finished trim arrived and painters came and went, you were well aware your building fund was sadly overspent. So you went to see your banker and you signed a healthy note, and you figure as a builder, that you really missed the boat. On that extra room you needed and to which you gave your all, you bestow the fitting label of Inflationary Hall.

Merry-Go-Round

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson is on another tour of Europe, studying conditions there in this period of world tension and crisis. Following is another of his dispatches from somewhere near the Czechoslovak border.)

By DREW PEARSON
SOMEWHERE NEAR THE CZECHOSLOVAK BORDER—Anyone who thinks it's easy to launch freedom-friendship balloons across the Iron Curtain has another guess coming. Once the balloons are in the air, nature and the fact that "winds of freedom blow from west to east" take care of the rest. But the real job is getting them into the air.

And that boils down to assembling hydrogen, tanks to put it in, trucks to haul it in, German workers to fill the balloons with hydrogen and on top of all this, keeping the operation secret from the curious German population which loves intrigue. The man who deserves the chief credit for overcoming these headaches is Harry Andrews, and Dewey and Almy Rubber Company, who, without knowing a word of German, cajoled, coaxed and wheedled nearly one thousand hydrogen tanks from firms all over Germany, collected them all in one place and got them filled with hydrogen. It takes so much hydrogen to carry 15 million pieces of literature across the Iron Curtain into Czechoslovakia that Andrews collected just about every tank in West Germany.

You can imagine the curiosity of the local tank distributors wondering why one man was going around picking up this colossal number of hydrogen containers. They popped the question to Andrews every time he brought in a new load, and he deserves a diploma in career diplomacy for expertly ducking these questions.

PROJECT AROUSES CURIOSITY
It was a little harder for him to duck the questions from the forty men recruited to fill the balloons.

The were to be taken near the Czech border every night, a five-hour drive from Munich, begin launching balloons at about midnight, finish work at 4 a. m., then get home at 9. Naturally they wanted to know where they were going and what they were going to do.

However, after getting them a nice new bus in which to ride to the Czech border every day, they finally signed up for this mysterious assignment.

Another problem involved in sending balloons into Czechoslovakia is that it is such a narrow country you can easily over the mark. In other words, if the balloons drift too far, they land in Poland where Poles can't read the Czech leaflets.

Therefore it has been necessary to balance a payload of pamphlets against the wind current in order to get the balloons to travel the right distance. It has also been necessary to shift the launching site every night, pending on the winds. For this reason, we never know until our meteorologist gives the word around noon each day which way to head our truck caravan.

The caravan totals nine trucks, two of them twenty-tonners carrying hydrogen cylinders, balloons, two million leaflets, and one motor generator which lights up the countryside sufficiently to arouse every farmer in the neighborhood but not sufficiently to give as much light as needed for the delicate operation of tying nozzles of two thousand balloons and doing it in record time.

BARRAGE CZECH WORKERS
The reason for night launchings is that the balloons are scheduled for arrival at 6 a. m., just as the Czech people are going to work. Two types of balloons are being used. One is a regular rubber balloon, manufactured by Dewey and Almy, carrying a load of about three and a half pounds or 2,200 leaflets. The other is a pillow-type balloon made by General Mills, which also contributed generously of its experts and time to help this operation. The pillow balloon, while carrying a lighter load, comes down to earth and bounces along the ground in an eerie fashion, bound to excite curiosity. Across its side, in large red letters is written "Svoboda," which means, freedom.

Incidentally, Svoboda is the name of Harold Stassen's grandfather and it is especially appropriate, as an American of part Czech descent, that he is attending this launching.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby Jr.

COLBY, YOU'RE WRONG
From Walter Waring, Lincoln, Penna.: Recently in "Take My Word For It" you said, "Incidentally, the word sphinx, so far as I know, is the only one-syllable word in English in which five consonant sounds are heard."

On reading your remark on sphinx this humble bard knits brow and thinks, "E'en as he drives and loudly honks. While easing through the crowded Bronx 'Ah, Sphinx,' he cries, 'I see at length That you're a word not unlike strength. In consonantal value, and You thus are quite akin to strange: Or spurge or script or strange or sprint. And, I might add, to scrimp, strict, spint. So, Sphinx, you are no hermit word, But member of a thriving herd!'"

And from Mrs. J. H. C., Los Angeles: Please let your readers know how many of us reminded you of strength and strange, and of what others like it.

Answer: I get more mail that way! The last week was 99,476, but my statistician grew weary of doing nothing but count all day.

San Bernardino: Colby, your pronunciation of soldier, as "SOLE-ier" is ridiculous. Everyone pronounces it "SOLE-dier."

Answer: Um-m! What you said.

Frank Colby's leaflet, C-11, "Lie-Lay, Sit-Set," makes these confusing word-pairs as simple as ABC. The non-technical job does the trick. For a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Mrs. Frank Colby, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 119, N. Y.

Reckless Teens Ride Traffic Patrol To Learn Wreck-Less Driving Habits

BY HOWARD DEWALD
NEA Special Correspondent
PHOENIX, ARIZ. — (NEA) —

Night rides with highway patrolmen are taking the wreck out of reckless youths in the Phoenix area.

Boys and girls between 16 and 18 years old who have been arrested for traffic law violations in Maricopa County must attend a 10-hour juvenile traffic violators' school. Then they ride the night patrol to learn first-hand how traffic accidents occur and how they could have been avoided by respect for the law.

Judge Charles C. Bernstein inaugurated the school a year ago to do something about "the most reckless group" of drivers. He instructed police to get tough with juveniles and arrest them for the slightest violation.

Appearing before the judge, the juvenile's license is suspended until he successfully completes the 2½-week course.

The first year a thousand youths completed the school. Only 18 graduates were arrested as repeaters for traffic law violations. Their licenses were suspended from 30 to 90 days.

Before the school was established, the judge said, there were so many repeaters among juvenile violators that they were referred to adult courts for prosecution.

The first thing juveniles get when they enter the school is a test to determine their attitudes toward other drivers and traffic laws. Then follows an examination of how much they know about the mechanical operation of a vehicle and an actual driving test in city traffic.

A psycho-physical test is given and a movie which characterizes bad youthful driving habits shown.

Not only does the school change many bad driving habits the youths have developed, but it also eliminates hostile attitudes toward the laws and police, an attitude that Judge Bernstein says is the heart of all juvenile delinquency.

A teen-ager's dislike for lawmen doesn't last long when he sits beside a patrolman for a night ride.

As they cruise the highways, minor traffic law violations are pointed out and the more flagrant violators are stopped and issued citations by the patrolmen. The young riders are told why the ticket was written and how the seemingly insignificant violation endangered the lives of many.

"I never realized how many people break the law until I saw it out on the highway," a 17-year-old boy said after his ride.

The officers stop, occasionally while on patrol to buy their young riders a malted milk, talk about what they have seen.

A 16-year-old relative of one of Arizona's high public officials and his girl were picked up one night driving their car side by side at 65 miles an hour along a main thoroughfare while they talked to each other over the radio.

Both were "sentenced" to attend the juvenile drivers' school. The boy was riding with a patrolman as the final part of his training, along the same thoroughfare, when the officer picked up a man for speeding.

SCHOOL FOR SAFETY: A teen-age traffic violator rides with Capt. George Stinson of Arizona's highway patrol for a night course in safe driving that makes good drivers out of bad ones.

"The guy's crazy to take a chance like that through here," the boy said.

His attitude had changed. A month before, he had taken a more dangerous chance.

In one night patrol, for example, a juvenile learned first-hand that strict observance of stop signs eliminates many accidents, that driving while drowsy is inviting a ditch full of overturned automobile, and that drunk and reckless driving is a rush order for an ambulance and the coroner.

The boy said:

"That ride helped me to realize how dangerous a car can be when taken lightly. I think all kids should have to ride with a patrolman once."

The American Bar Association has recognized the school as the only one of its kind conducted by a juvenile court in the country.

Among the most enthusiastic supporters of the school are Phoenix traffic officers and state highway patrolmen.

Capt. George Stinson of the Arizona Highway Patrol says: "This school is going to make our lives easier for years to come."

Garden At Dusk

When a summer day is done and gray shadows fill the valleys, peace broods on the land. Earth turns from its sun and our part of the planet grows quiet. Sounds of day dimming into the soft questionings of twilight while dark lines crawl down the eastern slants of hills, overflow the meadows and climb the west sides of slopes. After glow lingers in the sky and mountain peaks flame briefly with colored lights. Valley woodlands darken first; minute by minute the sky changes through a dozen shades of blue; dusk grows thicker and Night draws near.

Between dusk and darkness there is an interlude when a man should walk in his garden. As Earth radiates the heat of day and moisture begins condensing on leaves and grass, there is a brief period when Earth's fragrance is rich and satisfying—an elemental fragrance compounded of soil, foliage, blossoms and moisture. The aroma from the perennials is strong in the quiet air. Stand beside the corn and listen for a few minutes. That faint, mysterious rustling of the leaves almost makes one believe he can hear the corn grow.

No matter how hot the day or how dry the soil, when Night draws close there is something about a garden at dusk that strikes a responsive chord. For thousands of years, ever since he ceased his nomadic wanderings, man has been growing gardens. When day's labors are done and man has earned his bread by the sweat of his muscles, a walk in the garden gives a lift to the heart. Last sleepy calls of robins sound from the orchard; chimney swifts twitter as they settle for the night and now ballsinkle softly in the night pasture. Something there is about a garden that appeals; in the magic of humus, in the mystery of growth and fruition one can sense a power that governs this flowering world. Man's days are few and filled with confusions. But in the peace of a garden at quiet dusk he can catch glimpses of truths that are beacons along the trail.—By Haydn Pearson.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN
THE OLD RELICS — For reasons best known to historians, the student of history is popularly regarded as a bearded old coot who can remember where George Washington slept.

And historical societies have as their members a bunch of old men and their grandfathers whose principal occupation is debating the date of the War of 1812—or so the non-members believe.

Actually the local and the state and the national history societies and associations include quite a few folks not yet arrived at the footstool and hearing aid age.

Shining and charming example is the president of the Michigan Historical Commission, Mrs. Donald Adams of Drayton Plains, near Detroit, who attended the U. P. Local History Conference in Escanaba last weekend.

She has a working interest in Michigan's history, a six-year-old son, David, and a sympathetic husband, David and Donald went fishing at Escanaba while Mrs. Adams attended the conference. The whole family had a good time.

MORE PEOPLE COULD—After proving, at least to our satisfaction, that youth as well as age is interested in the past as well as the present and future, we would like to tell you about another comparative youngster of the Michigan Historical Commission.

He is Dr. Willis Dunbar of Kalamazoo, who views history in its relationship to ideas rather than dates. He would much rather know, for example, why people settled a community than when they came there.

With relentless satire, considering his audience, Dr. Dunbar told the U. P. Local History Conference:

"I have no objection to the kind of history that is important to the historian—how many county clerks has Gogebic county had? Which ones wore a beard? Who built the first frame house in Hancock? Who was the second wife of the, first sheriff of Alger county, if he had one?"

Dunbar believes finding the answers to such questions may be as much fun as listening to whodunits on the radio.

Often the so-called authorities on local history know all the dates and none of the story of their community, Dunbar said. A typical case was a Grand Rapids lady from whom Dunbar sought information.

"She started in by asking whether I had seen a certain old house up on Fulton avenue. Well, that house was built in 1840 by Judge so-and-so, and he had a nephew who went to California in the Gold Rush and married the daughter of the state treasurer and they had twelve children, one of whom wrote a volume of poems of which she had a copy—and would I like to see it?"

History should be viewed through the eyes of youth: Today and tomorrow are the big days and history is important only as it relates to the present and the future, Dunbar said.

DATE AND IDEA — Dunbar was unaware that one of his audience is making history as well as writing it.

She is Mrs. Chase S. Osborn, widow of Michigan's former governor, and a dynamic force in the cause for Atlantic Union—a union of Atlantic Pact nations for defense and advocacy of freedom in a world threatened by Communism.

It was 51 years ago that Chase Osborn, young candidate for governor, declared on a campaign tour:

"The great conflict of the future will be between the Slavs and the Anglo-Saxons, and the latter will be forced to unite around the earth for their self-preservation."

While in office as governor, Osborn urged a drawing together of the great democracies in Europe and America against possible conflict in the future with an ambitious Oriental power.

Now Mrs. Osborn, attending the history conference in Escanaba and Fayette over the weekend, is rallying support for Atlantic Union and its resolution calling for a convention of delegates to explore the possibility of union — as Chase Osborn advocated fifty years ago.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO
Escanaba—John Luecke, United States labor conciliator, and former Eleventh district congressman, will be the principal speaker at the Labor Day program sponsored by the Central Labor group in Marquette.

Gladstone—Plans for several civic improvements are now being prepared by City Manager A. F. Raddant. They include both water main and sewer system extensions. When ready they will be submitted to the Michigan health department for approval and will then be placed before the city commission.

Manistique — Employees of the Inland Lime and Stone company are planning their annual picnic, which will be held at The Pines, Labor Day, Sept. 11. All employees of the company are invited to attend. Committee chairmen are: Art Demars, Buck Demars, Harvey Ekdahl, Bill McKenzie, Joe Cherneski, George Smith and Les Goudreau.

20 YEARS AGO
Escanaba—All three of Escanaba's banking institutions are now members of the Federal Reserve banking system. The State Savings Bank of Escanaba was admitted to membership in the Federal Reserve Board of Minneapolis, by the Federal Reserve Board at Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, August 12, completing the roll of Escanaba's banks now in the Federal Reserve system.

Seattle, Wash.—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh took off at 8:50 p. m. today from Karagin Island, Eastern Siberia, for Petropavlovsk, capital of Kamchatka, some 554 miles distant.

Manistique—Purchase of an ambulance to take care of emergency cases at Port Inland was recently made by the Inland Lime and Stone company. Delivery of the car is expected today from Detroit. The securing of the new ambulance will insure careful and efficient handling of the injured between Port Inland and this city.

Iron Still Most Valued Of Metals

By HAL BOYLE
HIBBING, Minn.—(P)—What is the world's most valuable metal? A merchant might say, "gold!" That word has never lost its lure. A scientist, thinking of new experiments in the atom bomb, might say "uranium."
But in terms of everyday living the most valuable metal is still that old servant—iron. You have to eat iron to live. And iron is the muscle of steel, the framework of all great modern civilizations in war and in peace.
A nation without iron today is a nation without muscle. Americans use more iron than any other people. Yet they know as much about it as the average Chinaman does about the cause of athlete's foot.
Here are a few facts and figures about iron you can paste up for a quiz test:
Some 26 per cent of all the iron produced in the United States comes from the Mesabi range here. It is in a great pocket of glacial drift about a hundred miles long and up to seven miles wide. So nature concentrates her bounties.

Name Means Giant
Mesabi, also spelled Mesaba and Missabe, comes from a Chippewa Indian term meaning giants, who—legend says—once inhabited the region. The word "range" means "district" so the Mesabi range is "The District of the Giants" but iron is the only giant left.
It is a giant that has poured its strength into plowshares and skyscrapers, put sinews in swords and tanks. Without the Mesabi range America could hardly have fought and won two great world wars so handily. Or arm itself so well for a third one.
Iron used to be clawed by picks in underground tunnels. Some still is. But now huge shovels that do the work of scores of men strip off the covering soil surface, then scoop up five cubic feet of heavy ore as if it were so much ice cream. The shovels work down almost to the five-hundred foot level, creating great valleys of rust.

Richest Ore Blue
One mining company in the Hull-Rust-Mahoning pit, the world's largest, has 55 miles of railroad track within this single vast hole. One ore is trundled to the surface in 22-ton trucks and by a conveyor belt forty stories tall.
An odd sidelight: most visitors think the redder the earth, the richer the ore content. "Ain't so," the richest ore is blue-black, and crumbly. Red rock, bearing low grade ore, is called "paint rock" by the miners. A cleaning-up operation, in which ore pockets are washed out by hydraulic pressure, is called "a scam job".
Iron ore is sorted into 22 grades before it is trundled to Duluth in mile-long trains of 180 cars. Each modern car now can carry 70 tons. Nobody has ever been known to steal a loaded ore car. "He wouldn't find it easy to peddle," a rail official said. "That's one of the nice things about the business".

The ore goes from the Duluth-Superior docks to the nation's smelters via the Great Lakes. The brig Columbia carried only 132 tons in the first shipment in 1885. Big new modern vessels now carry 16,000 to 20,000 tons. And they can be loaded in four to six hours.
Taconite Rock Next
What about the future, when the high-grade ore is exhausted? One answer is taconite, or low-grade ore. There are millions of tons of it. One company is spending more than $23,000,000 in research on ways to utilize it commercially. A pilot plant now is powdering taconite rock, separating the iron particles magnetically and molding them into "iron eggs" richer than the best natural ore deposits. The process is called "beneficiation" and shows even the iron industry has its brand of gobbledygook.

Another answer to America's coming iron shortage lies in the discovery of new ranges. They no longer look for them through hit-or-miss test drillings. They explore for iron by airplane now. The plane carries a gadget called a magnetometer. When its needle begins to jitterburg, that means "metal below". And the more of this precious metal is found, the more secure is America's industrial might. But so far they can't mine it from rains, unfortunately.

Had you iron today?
FRENZIED PROPHETS
Bands of prophets, who stimulated themselves into frenzies by dancing and chanting, apparently were common in ancient Israel, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

West Point Cadets In Cheating Scandal Become Civilians

WEST POINT, N. Y. — (AP) — Thirty-three of the 90 accused military academy cadets are civilians today, most of them slated for early dates with their draft boards unless they gain admittance to other colleges.

Their glum exodus from the academy marked the beginning of the greatest mass expulsion in the 150-year history of the "point."

All 90 are accused of violating the West Point honor code by cheating on examinations.

Col. James B. Leer, academy information officer, said yesterday that "almost all" of the departing 33 had resigned—rather than be waived out of the army under administrative discharges.

The cadets who resigned left under an administrative order, which implies neither an honorable nor a dishonorable discharge. They received 30-day emergency leaves. When the leaves expire, those not already registered for selective service must report to their local draft boards.

Sailor Ducks Bullets In Korea, Then Finds Out He's Discharged

CHICAGO — (AP) — Henry G. Olszewski thought he was in the navy when he was ducking those Communist bullets in the Korean war zone.

Now Olszewski, 34, a little bewildered, is at the Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Training Station awaiting his official discharge. He was discharged, really, before all this came about.

This is his story: Olszewski became a machinist repairman, first class, in World War II. He saw action at Okinawa and Saipan and then came home to his wife, Loretta, in Chicago. They now have a son, Joey, 17 months old.

After Olszewski returned, he was attached to a naval reserve unit. Then, in 1950, he applied for his discharge.

On Oct. 9, 1950, however, he was ordered back to active duty. He inquired about his discharge, but was told it hadn't gone through.

Olszewski was shipped to Korea and assigned to the Askari, an LST. He saw bitter action in the Hungnam operation and evacuation for 10 days last December. He moved on to Pusan in April, 1951, and saw more action. He won the Korean medal and managed to escape wounds.

One day, while Olszewski was resting up for more battles, a yeoman, or ship's clerk, approached him. He had been studying Olszewski's service record.

"Hey, Bud," the yeoman said, "You might as well lay down your tools."

"Why?" asked Olszewski.

"You haven't been in the navy since July 17, 1950," the yeoman replied. "That was the day you were discharged."

Olszewski landed back at Great Lakes June 1. He's sitting there waiting for the snarl to be untangled. A navy disbursement officer ruled that Olszewski can't be paid, because he's not in the navy.

A navy spokesman explained the matter was just a shipup, which might happen in any organization. Olszewski's only comment was:

"I am a little bewildered."

Retirement Can Be Creative, Says He

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Retirement age is no longer a time of lonely, static existence, but a period of productive, active living, says Dr. Norman P. Miller, assistant professor of physical education at the University of California.

Miller says retirement these days is known for its "creative living, community activity and profitable avocations."

He recommends advance planning for those about to retire from regular jobs. First, the right place to settle down for each individual should be selected, then the right kind of hobbies, and the right kind of group or club to join should be carefully chosen, says Dr. Miller.

Old War Scars Heal In Japan

By JIM BECKER

TOKYO — (AP) — The sixth anniversary of Japan's surrender passed almost unnoticed today by both occupation personnel and the Japanese.

There were no ceremonies, no speeches, no flags in the streets. Shops and offices did business as usual. It appeared that most Americans, anyway, were not even aware that the bloody Pacific war came to a halt just six years ago today.

Only one of Tokyo's four major metropolitan newspapers commented on the surrender. It dwelt largely on the effects of facing "the butefings of the world" alone after Japan's peace treaty is signed.

The scars of the three years and eight months of war between Japan and the allied powers are practically healed in this capital city. The twisted rubble has been cleared away and new modern buildings have been erected in its place.

Sleek sedans purr through the streets and the people look well-dressed and well-fed.

Congress Rushes Resolution For Rift With Czechs

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Prompt Senate action was predicted today on a house-passed resolution to suspend trade relations with Red Czechoslovakia until William N. Oatis is freed from a Prague prison.

Oatis, Indiana-born Associated correspondent at Prague, was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment last month after what the House described as a "sham" trial in Prague on "espionage" charges.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee told newsmen he is in favor of the objectives of the House resolution and believed the Senate would endorse it. The Senate committee, he said, probably will send the resolution to the Senate for a vote next week.

The resolution, a modified version of an earlier "tough" approach, does not have any binding legal effect.

The House yesterday voted 362 to 1 in favor of an immediate U. S. break in commercial relations with the Czech government and suspension of those relations until Oatis is freed.

Truman Tells People Of Korea That U. S. Will Not Fail Them

By BILL SHINN

PUSAN, Korea — (AP) — President Harry S. Truman today told the people of war-ravaged Korea "we shall not fail you nor forsake you."

The message from the U. S. Chief Executive to Korean President Syngman Rhee was read to 1,000 Korean political leaders gathered to celebrate the third birthday of the Republic of Korea.

Speeches and parades in this temporary capital of the Republic today also marked the sixth anniversary of the end of Korea's 40-year occupation by the Japanese.

"What we fight for is right," Mr. Truman asserted. "We shall ultimately be victorious."

Infantry and armored units paraded, planes roared overhead, government officials spoke and people marched in long lines on this day of double celebration.

Banner-waving, chanting Korean marchers expressed opposition to any Korean war armistice along the 38th parallel.

Free Enterprise Idea Gets Popular With West Germans

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — A survey indicates that almost half of the people of West Germany favor the principle of free enterprise. The survey was conducted by the reactions analysis staff of the U. S. Commissioner for Germany. One-third of the 1,000 persons questioned expressed opposition to the principle (Gewerbefreiheit). Eight per cent had never heard of the term.

The U. S. policy in Germany has been to encourage the development of "Gewerbefreiheit," but under a draft law now pending in the German Parliament approval by a council of tradesmen would be required before an individual can enter a trade or a business.

Restrictive licensing is a surviving remnant of the medieval guild system. It was abolished by the Germans during the 19th Century but was revived by the Nazis. It is now prohibited in the U. S. Zone of Germany but is still prevalent in the remainder of West Germany.

Pennsylvania produces more ice cream than any other state, turning out about 73,740,000 gallons a year.

Britain Keeps Her Trade With Russia

LONDON — (AP) — Sir Hartley Shawcross, president of the board of trade, is expected today to reaffirm Britain's stand that East-West trade is vital and she has no intention of joining any economic blockade against Russia.

Sir Hartley's foreign trade policy outline is to be made apparently in answer to American critics of Britain's insistence on doing at least some business with Communist countries. But he doubtless will make it plain that Britain does not intend to allow war-potential goods to reach the Reds.

Britain has just concluded a deal with Russia, whereby the Soviets promise to deliver $28,000,000 worth of timber with an option of supplying a further $14,000,000 worth within an undisclosed period.

Qualified sources said the British also are starting talks for the purchase of nearly 1,000,000 tons of Soviet coarse grains—corn, barley and oats—by mid-1952. Over the past year Russia has delivered 750,000 tons of coarse grains valued at around $42,000,000.

Britain's view is that this sort of trading—particularly the purchase of timber and grains and other eastern European food products—is indispensable and that a cutdown of such dealings

Beer Drinking Crow On Diet At Alpine, Tex.

ALPINE, Tex.—(AP)—Blackie the beer-drinking crow is home again, weak, hungry and disillusioned. It will take more than beer to put Blackie back on his feet. His master, hotel manager Frank Hofues, jr., says his pet "is a very subdued bird."

Two Brewster county ranchers gave the bird to Hofues last year. They described him as "a prized Mexican eagle and exceedingly rare type of bird."

But he was, and is, just plain crow. Such distinctions as he has are the result of his contract with civilization. One of these is beer-drinking.

His drinking was scandalous. Blackie always wanted more than he should have, and he always got as much as he wanted. He was frequently stinko.

This happy life was interrupted about three months ago. Blackie disappeared. It was spring, the mating season.

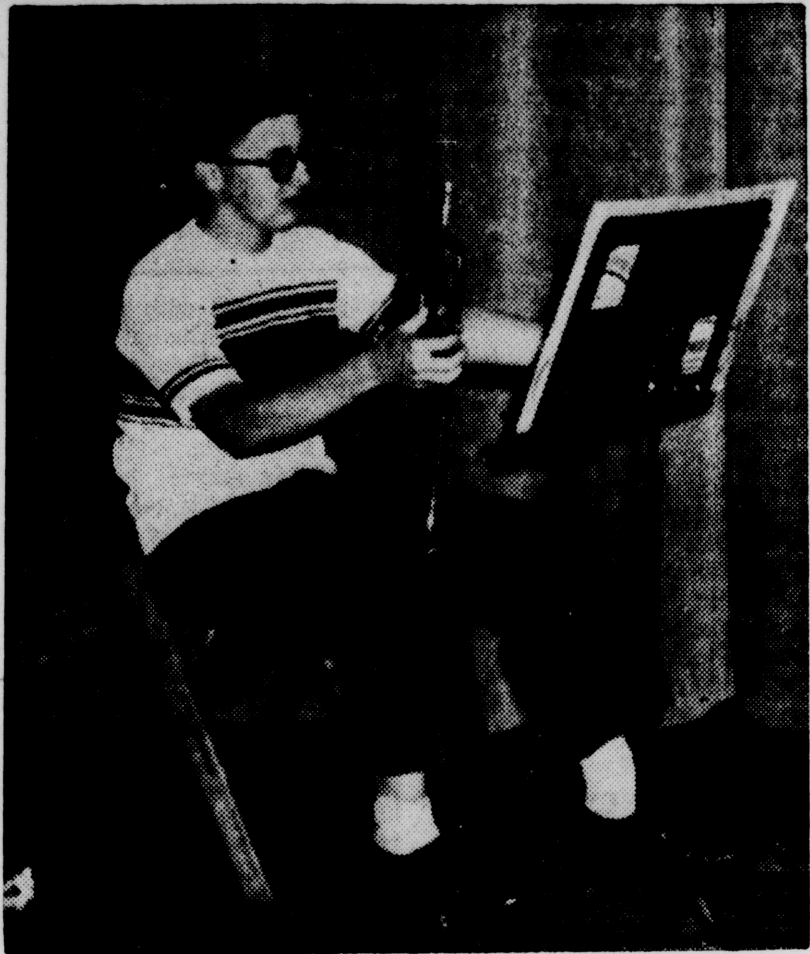

Recently Anja Wilson and John Young of Alpine were driving by Sul Ross college here when they saw a crow sitting by the side of the road. Although they passed nearby, the crow did not fly away. Wilson and Young, curious, turned around and went back. The crow feebly took wing—and landed on Wilson's arm. It was Blackie.

"He is just a shadow of his former self," says Hofues. "Miss Lentz, our housekeeper, is feeding him dog food, raw eggs, etc., to try to build his strength up. He is so weak he can't fly more than ten feet. He has certainly lost all of his arrogant ways and is a very subdued bird. I am sure his spirits will pick up as his strength does."

Beer isn't part of Blackie's convalescence diet.

The general flower exhibit, however, will be held only through Thursday. It will be taken down to make room for the Gladiolus Show which has grown to such proportions that it has become a major exhibit of the fair.

This show opens Friday, August 17, and continues throughout the balance of the Fair.

A sunburst rose, grown out of doors, is attracting much attention. The bloom is perfect, shading from pale coral to creamy white. Baby breath in pink and white is included with the usual all white variety. African violets also are shown in shades varying from the deep purple to a delicate orchid and pale pink.

Sunflowers, a favorite garden bloom, measure eight inches and more across.

The exhibit includes a number of unusual cactus plants, a canna in bloom which stands close to six feet, fuchsias of every variety, a love-of-the-mist with blue flowers, similar to bachelor buttons and feathery foliage which is a new entry in the department, and various types of begonia, including the strawberry species.

Another rare plant is a myrtle with rich green foliage.

Practically every known variety of garden flower is displayed with varied colored blooms in most. The wild flowers are beautiful arrangements of golden rod, asters, blazing star, cat tails and other varieties of late summer and early fall flowers.

Judging in the department started yesterday afternoon.

Entries in the Gladiolus Show will close at noon Friday. Mrs. Byrns and Mrs. VanWagner also are in charge of this event.

Flower Show Of Beauty And Variety U. P. Fair Feature

Garden flowers, outdoor and house plants and the seasonal wild blooms of the northern Michigan countryside and woodlands are combined in a gigantic and colorful display in the main exhibition building of the Upper Peninsula State Fair this week.

The Floriculture Department which styles its exhibit, "Fairland Garden" has the finest display in its history, contrary to the belief that the continuous rains which hampered growing crops the past several weeks, would curtail the entries. The colors are more vivid and the size of the blooms is equal to that of past summers.

The flower display arranged by Mrs. J. E. Byrns, superintendent of the department and Lora VanWagner of Iron River, assistant superintendent, is in its customary place in the foreground of the main first floor. Two large pyramid stands permit effective display of every entry.

Exhibit Ends Thursday.

Fire talks to operators

Early one morning in the telephone office at Marquette, the switchboard signal from a local fruit market's telephone flashed on. Operator Pat O'Donnell answered the "call," but no one was on the line—only a strange crackling noise. Unable to identify the sound, Pat called for Mrs. Lucy M. Bush, the night chief operator.

Mrs. Bush knew what the mysterious noise was. Her 34 years of telephone experience had taught her many things, and this, she could tell, was the sound of fire!

Immediately she notified the police and the fire department. They found the fruit market in flames. Fortunately, though, damage to the market was limited, and the buildings next door were saved—because of quick thinking, experience and teamwork.

Will Blacktop Tenth Street

City Extends Tax Deadline Month

Bids for the blacktopping of Tenth street from Delta avenue to Lake Shore Drive will be sought by the City of Gladstone, it was decided at the regular meeting of the city commission Monday evening.

Bids also are to be sought on the purchase of a tractor mower for trimming of boulevards and edges, similar to that used by the County Highway department on road shoulders, and on a new snow loader to replace the present equipment which has been in use for many years.

A group of businessmen appeared at the meeting and requested the street be repaved; that adequate lighting similar to that on Delta avenue be installed, and that signs be erected in order to route some of the tourist traffic through the business section.

An effort will be made to get the Michigan State Highway department to blacktop South Ninth (US 2-41 and M-35) from Delta avenue to Dakota avenue.

Representatives of the Michigan State Police appeared before the commission to learn if a project of widening the driveway and enlarging the parking area at the Gladstone State Police Post could be done by city employees provided payment was made on a cost basis and this was approved.

A request for a change in the zoning ordinance calling for changing property owned by R. A. Hale at South Gladstone from residential to commercial was considered and August 27th set as the date of public hearing on the matter.

Extension of the deadline for payment of taxes from August 15 to Sept. 17 was approved.

Chief of Police Torval Kallerson and Night Officer Jim Norrick were authorized to attend a police pistol shoot at Jackson on August 29.

Killing Doe Deer Costs Rapid River Trio $173

It proved expensive hunting for a Rapid River trio the other night.

Caught by Conservation Officers with a doe deer in their possession, the men; namely Elmer Moore, George Moore and Leon Micheau, were placed under arrest and brought before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson.

All three entered pleas of guilty to the charge and each was fined $50 and costs of $7.80.

In addition, none of the trio will be able to obtain a license to hunt deer during regular season for the next three years.

Because of this, one of the men sold his rifle, which had been returned to him, for a fraction of its worth before leaving the courtroom.

Procurement of a master plan for the quarry pool area was informally approved by the Manistique city council Monday night.

Councilmen instructed H. W. Heideman, city manager, to recommend to the city recreation commission that such a plan be obtained, and that steps be taken to engage a qualified recreation architect to do the work.

The need of a master plan for the area was stressed here recently by John J. Collier, district representative of the National Recreation association, Toledo.

Collier later amplified his recommendation in a letter to the city recreation commission.

The cost of such a plan, it was pointed out, would be $500 or less.

County Seeks Waiver On City Sales Tax Money

Schoolcraft county has requested the city of Manistique to leave its share of the first quarter sales tax diversion money with the county treasurer until next January.

The request was voiced at the regular council meeting Monday night by Councilman A. W. Heideman who also is chairman of the county finance committee.

The city's share of the first quarter allocation is $8,279.46.

The council, however, decided informally to defer action on the request until a meeting of the county finance committee is held. The committee is expected to meet within a couple of weeks.

Water Proposals

Members of the city council will meet informally within the next few days to review all facts relating to the local water supply problem, it was decided at a regular meeting of the city board Monday night.

The informal discussions, it was indicated, will be devoted primarily to an effort to cut estimated costs on proposed work.

Indiana Student
Is Guest Musician
With Local Band

A young Hobart, Ind., high school junior who is spending three weeks at Indian Lake with his parents is playing with the Manistique Municipal Band this week as a guest musician.

He is George Schmidt, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt, of Hobart. They are staying at one of the Agner Dehlin cabins at the lake.

George, who plays the French horn, has made three concert appearances with the local band and will be with the Manistique group when it plays tonight in front of the grandstand at the Upper Peninsula State Fair, Escanaba.

He will also be with the local band when it presents its final concert of the season Thursday evening on the court house lawn, starting at 8:15.

As a member of the Hobart high school band in 1950, George played in Chicago at the Lions International convention.

He has been coming to Indian Lake with his parents for the past two summers. Last summer he told C. E. Leonard, business manager of the local band, that he would like to play with the band this year.

"We are mighty happy to have him with us," Leonard said. "He is a fine musician and a French horn player is a welcome addition to our band, even if only temporary."

Riverside Country Club at Menominee had the stuffing knocked out of it Sunday afternoon by four of the best amateur women golfers in the country. Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, and Barbara Dawson of Piedmont, Calif., toured the course in an exhibition which drew several hundred appreciative spectators.

All four gave exhibitions of beautiful drives, steady irons and nifty putting. In the 11-hole match played by the four experts, there were 26 pars, seven birdies and one eagle. Top score was Miss Dawson's 47 for the 11 holes.

Whiting, Ind., the team which eliminated the Escanaba Little League champs from the sectional tournament last week at Ft. Wayne, won the sectional crown with a 4-2 win over Ft. Wayne in the finals. Ft. Wayne had dropped Kokomo from the tourney in an opening game the same night that Escanaba lost.

An interesting softball game will be played here Sunday night. In a sense, it will be a part of the district tournament which was completed over the weekend. Carney and Ev's Bar will play for the right to compete in the Upper Peninsula championship tournament at Iron Mountain. The two class B finalists, Power & Light and Kipling, are already qualified and the third place team will join them in the U. P. class. Number of entries eligible to compete in the U. P. meet is determined by the number of teams competing in the district. There were eight in class B here.

The King and His Court popped up again in the U. P. The team played at Sault Ste. Marie Sunday night, beating the Soo All Stars 10-7 before some 2,000 fans. It was reported the 91st win of this season for the King's four man crew. We see where the Iron County Steelers, independent football team, has reorganized at Stambaugh. The club, coached by Frank Shephard, has won 13 of 15 games played in the past two seasons. The Steelers just about wrecked amateur football in the U. P. with their powerhouse teams, and cut a wide swath through the rough Wisconsin State league in exhibition games.

Lou Brissie Hot Fireman For Front-Running Cleveland Club

By RALPH RODEN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Lou Brissie is the unheralded cog in the Cleveland Indians' stirring drive for the American league pennant.

Brissie is to the Indians what Joe Page was to the New York Yankees in their successful 1947 and 1949 pennant campaigns. But unlike the former, Brissie hasn't drawn the headlines.

Although the "big four" of Bob Feller, Mike Garcia, Early Wynn and Bob Lemon have received most of the credit Brissie has contributed handsomely to the 2½ game lead the Indians enjoy over the Yankees today.

Three Scoreless Innings The 27-year-old left-hander, seriously wounded in Italy during the war, pitched three scoreless innings in relief yesterday to gain credit for the Indians' 6-5 ten-inning victory over the Detroit Tigers for their 12th straight win.

The Yanks kept pace by, defeating the Washington Senators, 6-3. The third place Boston Red Sox also won, downing the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-4.

In the National league, the New York Giants turned back the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-2, the Boston Braves beat the Philadelphia Phils, 4-2, and the Chicago Cubs edged the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4. The other clubs were idle.

34th Appearance Brissie, making his 34th appearance for the Indians, gained his third triumph. However, it marked the 12th time he has successfully bailed out a faltering starter. Brissie now has pitched 19½ consecutive scoreless innings.

The lanky southpaw came to the Indians from the Philadelphia Athletics in 1941.

Lou Brissie

Athletics in a three-cornered deal with Chicago on April 30. The Indians had to give up Orestes Mino to the White Sox to obtain Brissie. At the time Indian general manager Hank Greenberg was criticized for making the deal.

Greenberg said, "we didn't want to give up Mino. He has the chance to become one of the really good ball players of our time. It's the kind of a deal a club makes when it's going all out for the pennant."

Two For Ted The Yanks scored three in the ninth with two out to down the Senators. Relief pitcher Bob Kuzava singled home the first run and Phil Rizzuto's double drove the final two across the plate.

Home runs by Gene Woodling and Hank Bauer accounted for the first two Yankee runs.

Ted Williams drove home three runs on a pair of homers to lead the Red Sox to victory over the Athletics. The homers enabled Williams to wrest the league lead from the A's Gus Zernial, 25 to 24, and also boosted his RBI output to 100, tops in the majors.

Powers Begins 3rd Grid Year

Seek Two Games To Fill Out Schedule

POWERS—Coach Jerry Anzalone's Powers — Spaulding high school football team began practice sessions this week in preparation for the 1951 schedule, which has not yet been completely filled.

Powers will be playing its third year of football this season. Two years ago the squad finished the season with only 12 men and last season got along with 17. Coach Anzalone hopes to have two full squads this year.

Powers will have a number of veterans back in the fold. Returning at ends will be Bob Lawrence and Don O'Neil. Captain Dave Lawrence will be back at center as will Don Bellefeul at right guard.

Schedule Ray Wells, two year veteran quarterback, and John Henderson, half, will be with the squad again this season. Lost from the backfield are Ernie Dalla Costa, fullback, and fleetfooted Joe Veeser, half.

Other promising boys from last year's team are Jim Cory, Lewis Dalla Costa, Wally Perket and Earl St. John.

Two more games are being sought to round out the schedule which follows.

Sept. 5—Florence there. Sept. 21—Rock there. Sept. 29—Florence here. Oct. 5—St. Paul here.

Hear Story Of Newest Scandal

RICHMOND, Va. — (P) — Heads of William and Mary met here today to hear the inside story on how the college became involved in the nation's newest sports scandal.

Overshadowed was the task of selecting a new head football coach and athletic director to succeed R. N. (Rube) McCray.

McCray turned in his resignation last weekend amid charges of "malpractices" by the department of athletics.

Statements have indicated that this consisted of "doctoring" the grades of student athletes.

Virginia's Governor John S. Battle said "there can be no temporizing" with such conditions. William and Mary is a state-supported institution.

Dean Marshall revealed he had offered his resignation last April "unless the matter (of malpractices) by the athletic staff was brought to a head."

Tigers Move To Chicago Tonight

Scalped Again By Leading Indians

CHICAGO — (P) — The failing Detroit Tigers moved to Chicago today to see whether the slowed-down White Sox are any less obnoxious now than the Cleveland Indians.

Almost any change might be for the better.

The Tigers got out of Cleveland after a second straight loss in Indiantown, 6 to 5 in ten innings.

Again the Indians had the extra oomph and scored their 15th victory of the year in 16 games with Detroit. The Tigers blew a 5 to 3 lead in going down.

Two Outsted To liver up proceedings that were never dull, Detroit's Freddy Hutchinson and Don Kolloway both were shoed out of the game for arguing umpire decisions.

And Cleveland Catcher Jim Hegan, though slightly groggy from two collisions at the plate, was the man who singled home the winning run.

Before that Detroit had overcome a two-run Cleveland lead, reached on Ray Boone's second inning homer that scored Al Rosen ahead of him.

Two Homers The Tigers caught up with bases-empty four-baggers — in the third by Dick Kryhoski, his seventh, and in the fourth by Vic Wertz, his 18th.

Cleveland went ahead again in the fourth when Harry Simpson, young Negro who starred in San Diego, hit his fourth homer.

In the sixth Detroit collected three singles and a double, which, with Al Rosen's error, gave them a 5-3 lead and shelved starter Bob Lemon from the mound.

Cleveland, however, tied it up with single runs in the seventh and eighth.

Hutch Booted With the score 5-5 and tension high, Hutchinson, Detroit's starter, got into an eighth inning jawfest with Umpire Ed Hurley over balls and strikes that resulted in Hurley waving him out.

That seldom happens to pitchers in tight games, and Hutchinson charged in on the umpire. Four of his mates and Manager Red Rolfe restrained him and Gene Beardpe took over.

Bearden gave way to a pinch-hitter in the 10th and Hank Borowy went to the mound. Hegan stepped up and singled Simpson home from second for the deciding counter and made Borowy the losing pitcher.

Applications for the all-star show already have been received at fair headquarters from as far away as Tampa, Fla., and Tulsa, Okla. A $1,600 prize pool awaits money-winners in the seven-event program.

Top "names" planning to appear at the fair's racing meet are Pete Folse, driver of the famed Buckner Offenhauser from Tampa. The Tulsa entrant is Tommy Vardeman, Oklahoma state mid-get racing champ who will be driving the O'Dea Offenhauser.

Both these autos are larger than the ones driven at the Indianapolis Memorial Day classic. Their Offy engines are hand-tailored by the top designers of racing equipment in the world.

Folse and Vardeman will be facing a tough field studded with performers such as Slim Rutherford of Phoenix, Ariz., Ernie Johnson, North Dakota state champion from Christine, Win Herner, the Kid from Chicago, Bill Mumford of Cleveland, and Johnny Moore of Austin, Minn.

Rutherford designed, built and drives his famous Rutherford Special—a combination of Offy and Ford.

Following trials at 1 o'clock, two qualification heats, a consolation dash, match race, Australian Pursuit and 10-lap feature will follow in order. More than 50 miles of rapid-fire action is promised on the half-mile Upper Peninsula track.

All Escanaba business places will be closed Thursday afternoon to allow local speed fans plenty of opportunity to catch the races. It will also be Governor's and 4-H day at the fair with a live-stock parade scheduled to be held between the races. Track conditions have been working for two weeks on the surface, promising record-breaking performances.
